As the growth of Argentine wine and imported Malbec sales continue to experience double digit growth in the United States today, the wines of Bodegas Callia are perfectly positioned to meeting the demands of today's marketplace.

Bodegas Callia's mission is to produce the best wines in San Juan and the best Shiraz in Argentina while respecting and supporting the people, nature and community from which there wines are created. Bodegas Callia is situated in the Tulum valley in Argentina's province of San Juan. At 2,100 feet above sea level, the area is blessed with ideal climate, low rainfall and rich sandy alluvial and clay loam soil; the result is intense, fruit-forward wines that reflect the rich terroir of this region.

Callia was the fastest growing and top leading brand in its segment in Argentina during 2008.

Born of legend, Bodegas Callia is named for a young woman who cherished San Juan as a paradise endowed with abundant fruits despite the desert landscape.
