CARMENERE: With ripe red fruit, dark chocolate and cinnamon aromas, Nativa Terra Reserva Carmenere is complex and elegant, with smooth tannins and a long finish.

CABERNET SAUVIGNON: Ripe red fruit, cassis, dark chocolate and sweet spice aromas combine with firm tannins and a persistent finish in this fine, well-balanced Reserva Cabernet Sauvignon.

Gran Reserva

CABERNET SAUVIGNON: The extraordinary Nativa Gran Reserva Cabernet Sauvignon comes from a select low-yielding vineyard in the Maipo Valley.

Nativa wines capture the very essence of Chile's superior and unique terroir with organically grown grapes nurtured only by the warmth of the sun, the nutrients in the soil and water from the skies. This producer's naturally distinctive wines are, as a result, full of the flavors and aromas that are helping to make the country one of the most exciting wine producing regions in the world.

Nativa wines were the first in Chile to be made with grapes certified as organically grown. The country, indeed, offers excellent growing conditions for organic agriculture, with its four natural barriers – the Atacama Desert to the north, the Andes Mountains to the east, the Pacific Ocean to the west and the Antarctic glaciers to the south – providing natural isolation and protection of the vineyards.

Led by Chief Winemaker, Felipe Ramírez, Nativa is passionate about embracing the natural environment and has implemented sustainable wine-making practices. The winery uses recycled materials for wine bottles, labels and packaging, produces grapes free of chemical residue, strives to improve soil fertility, and utilizes the maximum amount of renewable resources, all while maintaining the genetic diversity of the ecosystem.

Nativa Terra Reservas perfectly express the true varietal character of each varietal within the Range. The award-winning, single-vineyard Gran Reserva Cabernet Sauvignon is a singular example as to why Chile produces some of the best Cabernet Sauvignon in the world.
