DESCRIPTION

The Loire Valley has often been called the garden of France. This pastoral landscape, with its gently rolling hills and majestic chateaux, is the largest sparkling wine region in France, outside of Champagne. One of the best known names in fine Loire Valley sparkling wines is Marquis de la Tour from Maison Ackerman. Maison Ackerman, which has been identified with premium quality Loire Valley sparkling wines since 1811, is the Loire Valleys single largest wine producer. Ackerman today has a fully fledged sustainable development approach based on maintaining the right balance between the social, economic and environmental aspects of wine production. At Ackerman, this means respecting terroirs, holding onto their personal values and pursuing a viable economic approach. Named for a 16th century tower (tour) which still exists today, Marquis de la Tour reflects a long heritage of sparkling wine production. It has been a welcome guest and the toast of the party at social gatherings and family celebrations, both formal and casual. Its handsome packaging projects a timeless, classic elegance and is a charming and affordably priced sparkling wine.

VINIFICATION

Sparkling wine made from 100% Loire grapes. Because of its northern location, the grapes maintain a high level of acidity. After fermentation, a portion of the juice is removed and the rest remains in contact with the skins to produce a pink color.

COLOR

A bright salmon pink with fine bubbles

NOSE

Delicate and elegant with notes of strawberries and raspberries

PALATE

Round and fresh with sweet berry notes, red currant and a long, fresh finish

ANALYSIS

Alcohol: 12%

BOTTLE SIZE

750 ml

SERVING SUGGESTIONS

Served chilled. This sparkling wine can accompany an entire meal or be served as an aperitif.
