DESCRIPTION

The Wemyss family has had a longstanding passion for malt whisky and their connections with the industry date back to the turn of the 19th century when John Haig (founder of Haig's) built his first distillery on Wemyss land. Even today barley from the Wemyss Estate is prized by many of the leading distillers, and Cameronbridge distillery is located just a few miles from the castle itself. With this passion came the gradual realization that, even for the knowledgeable consumer, much of the malt whisky terminology can be confusing. Our range of handcrafted malts was conceived with the aim of making them more accessible and understandable. We use the taste and aromas of the individual whiskies to identify each bottling, rather than the distillery, so the consumer can more easily understand the style being purchased. Each cask that is chosen for bottling is representative of the best characteristics of its regional origins and only the best casks are chosen by our Nosing Panel, which is chaired by Charlie Maclean. This strict selection process limits the number of casks which are of the exceptional quality required to be elevated into this range. After our Nosing Panel has selected the casks, they then delve into the flavor profile of these casks to ensure that the name given to each whisky reflects the unique aromas and flavors found within the bottle. All our single cask bottling's are presented on a regional basis, reflecting the different taste profiles.

VINIFICATION

"Beachcomber" comes from Clynelish Distillery, was distilled in 1995, and bottled in August 2011. The scotch is a limited edition, and only 257 bottles were released.

COLOR

Pale amber.

NOSE

Coastal and briny before warming to reveal a creamy, almost waxy note, with hints of pepper and a dry spiciness.

PALATE

Complex and well-structured palate shows a typical Clynelish flavor profile; rich, full and bursting with maritime notes.
