

96

POINTS

Sergio Zingarelli Chianti Classico Gran Selezione

Cashmere versus lambswool. The Gran Selezione comes across as slightly riper and lusher as well, but retains the same alluring hint of bitterness in the finish. There's plenty of structure, but without a trace of astringency.

Wine Review Online

June 2020